Success at Last!

With talk of the Salk Polio vaccine hitting all the front pages in the country, it is only fitting that mention should be made of the man, Dr. Jones Salk, pictured above in his Pittsburgh hospital laboratory after announcement of the success of his anti-polio vaccine. He is shown here examining a live virus fluid.

Schools in Alberta are already administering the vaccine and it is likely that some work will be done in this division once organizational plans have been completed.

We will try to procure some sort of a schedule of vaccine inoculation for your attention next week.

Hail Suppression Meeting Thursday Important Step

Appearing in this issue of the Pioneer is an advertisement inviting farmers and any interested people in the district to attend an informational meeting at which a representative of the Watersways Development Corporation of Denver, Colorado will outline a plan of hail suppression. This meeting is called by the Didsbury F. U. A. local who endeavor to keep the farmers and members informed on all new developments affecting the Agricultural industry in the province. This Hail Suppression Plan should prove quite a source of first hand information regarding the matter and should be well attended.

With costs of the hail suppression plan running about 12c an acre it is about as cheap an insurance one can procure. However in this area it is likely that costs may be up from that figure. But even if they stay at 2c or under it is worthwhile investigating. One must remember too, that every trial is not a success and it would be foolish to go into the plan with a closed mind, saying, "I've paid the shot, let's have no more hail." Experience only can be the best teacher and if it alleviates even part of the major hail problem in this district, reputed to be the worst hail area in the world—then we've done something.

The meeting is open and everyone is urged to make a special effort to attend.

On April 15th ten tables of which were in play at the Spenside hall. First prizes were won by Joyce Wrigglesworth and Billie Morton. Consolation prizes to Marion Morton and Lloyd Nelson. The holder of the traveling prize was Muriel Collinge.

Nine members and five visitors met at the home of Mrs. Russell Gilreath on Wednesday April 26th. The afternoon got underway with a contest. First prizes was won by Dot Kerman and consolation by Ada Collinge. Mrs. Westell won the tea draw. A delicious lunch served by the hostess was enjoyed by all.

A number of friends and neighbors of the district attended the Corbett-Collinge wedding on Saturday.

Farmers are not hoping now to get on the land for another two to three weeks.

ENCOURAGING TAX CUTS

Five per cent reduction in automobile taxes should give the car owner a big shot in the arm and at the same time prevent British car manufacturers from getting such a good share of the Canadian market.

Amount of tax topped off amounts to about $100 to $120 for the medium priced cars, which is pretty fair incentive for potential buyers. There is still plenty of tax in the auto but the recent move by Finance Minister Harris is a step in the right direction.

Reduction in income tax also is an encouraging move. While some look upon the matter as a vote getting move for the Liberal govt., it is the first downward turn in income tax in many years and encouraging to the man on a wage.

COMPLACENCY NOT OUR STAND

A correspondent suggests that the Rural Scene takes a very complacent view of the plight in which Canadian farmers find themselves.

She charges us with taking the stand that agriculture should be satisfied with the present economic set-up, which is resulting in the steady decline in the prices of farm products, while farm production costs are maintained at high levels by high industrial wages and the cost of maintaining the welfare state.

She believes that in view of the burdens these things place on agriculture, the farmers should not have to meet the competition of farm products from foreign and Communist wealth countries whose farmers are not so burdened.

Our correspondent is mistaken. We are not satisfied with the present economic set-up. We believe that Canadian farmers, except those who suffered from crop damage last year, are better off today than ever they were. But we believe that their present prosperity cannot endure because, like the present prosperity of other classes in the country, it is based on artificially enhanced prices which are bound to come down, and there is nothing we can do to prevent it.

We believe that the remedy for the situation is not to be found in putting more props under the prices of farm products, but in removing the props that are maintaining farm costs, and industrial costs, and living costs at levels that are pricing all Canadian products out of the markets, even out of the home market.

Mrs. Stiles Story Accepted for Alberta Anthology

Mrs. Marjorie Stiles (W. E.) has just received word that her pioneer article "The Way to Wheatbelt" has been published in the Alberta Jubilee Anthology.

This book is now off the press and will soon be in the bookstores. It contains the work of 105 Alberta authors and contains 508 pages, with 3 colored maps and 16 colored pages of pictures. The cover is stamped in gold with the Alberta coat of arms.

The stories and articles contain the colorful history of Alberta with plenty of material on the changing scenes of today. The Alberta Government are placing copies in all their embassies and consulates abroad.

Crux Of Job Problem

There's been a great deal of talk and study about what governments can do about unemployment, but most of it deals with mass unemployment, of the kind we had in the thirties, points out The Financial Post.

Most of the principles emerging from the long discussion of mass unemployment don't apply to the present situation. Our specialists and anti-unemployment techniques find themselves in the position of a medical squad, fully prepared to deal with a cholera epidemic, which finds itself faced with an outbreak of chicken pox.

One characteristic of the present variety of unemployment seems to be clearly established. The untrained, undereducated worker is the one with the most trouble.

Another category, with the same basic problem, consists of workers whose skills have been superseded: railway workers whose jobs have been eliminated by dieselization; workers in woolen textile industries whose product is competing, unsuccessfully, with synthetics.

Both these groups need training, or retraining, to supply them with saleable skills.

Through The Study Window

By REV. C. C. ARMSTRONG

Ministers are fond of metaphor and on the whole probably don't mix them up too badly. But on occasion they do say things that are oddly inappropriate. As an example "The Christian life is not all beer and skittles." Or again, "It's time our preachers got their hands a little dirty and moved into the front trenches."

It is that last sentence which calls for something in the way of commentary. Banning wash-bowls and substituting a dug-out for an elevated pulpit is not going to do much to improve the quality of preaching.

If a person is calling for bold preaching, he might use that other declaration, "A pulpit is a coward's castle." It pictures a coward, protected by moat and battlement, safe from his enemies and calling them names rather than coming out to fight them. It implies that the real battles are fought and won when people come face to face rather than in a situation where one man feels free without his listeners being given an opportunity to challenge his declaration.

While I am on the subject, a minister does not expect his people to agree with all that he has to say from the pulpit. Members of one congregation can be of assistance from time to time, after the sermon, by challenging some of the declarations, and indicating either agreement or disagreement. This is done occasionally, but for some reasons or another, many people hesitate to debate ethics, doctrine or practical theology, as outlined from the pulpit. If they do not wish to contest the point, they might wish for further explanation, or suggest some theme that they would like to hear.

One minister based a series of sermons on questions and answers under the title "Open Season on the Preacher." He didn't make up the questions, either, but had them sent in and he gave his reply. The title of the theme is a good one, too. "Open season on the preacher" might give people a chance to reply to the preacher who is tempted to take a few pot-shots at sitting ducks. It should make for an interesting series.

Recipe for a Boy

Dangling from a tree,
A big toe bandaged with a bow,
A turned up dungaree,
Take a mouth that bleeds with jam,
A nose of second skin,
A shock of crew-cut auburn hair,
A corrugated shin,
Take a mind that can encompass
Rockets out in space,
But not a simple detail such as Hanging clothes in place,
Add a heart of purest gold
With just enough alloy
Of Puck to prove his metal,
And you have—a boy!

The Didsbury Pioneer
 Phone 12 Didsbury

One of the best guardians against erosion of our land by wind or water is a protective covering. The trash cover residue of previous crop should not be burned after the winter protection has been provided.

This trash cover should be kept near the surface and can be readily incorporated into the soil and will continue to protect the soil from erosion.

This residue will break down and as it decomposes it makes available plant foods for the growing crops.
 Do not burn the stubble straw in the spring, this procedure eliminates the protection from erosion and destroys the organic matter which will provide plant food. In addition, the intake moisture capacity of a soil is governed by the organic matter content, this factor is important in preventing water holes developing.

There are a number of problems with handling of a heavy trash cover, after the incorporation of large amounts of straw a depressed yield was result. This is caused by a lack of nitrogen in the growing crops at the time this straw is breaking down, after the straw is decomposed there is more nitrogen available than the use of commercial fertilizer. If no straw had been incorporated,
 This problem can be handled by mechanical mix of 1 part 33-5-0-0 and 1 part 2-48-0 or 16-20-0 depending on type of soil you are farming.

Use all measures possible to incorporate this trash, the burning of it is a short sighted measure, as the problem of trash incorporation the following years to burn is more difficult because of the lack of organic and bacterial life.

Willing Workers

The Elktion Willing Workers held their April meeting at the home of Mrs. R. Batus, Wed. last. A comforter was quilled for the Red Cross and it was decided to hold a social evening at the school in June to finance the school picnic. Final arrangements to be made at the next meeting. The flour sack articles auctioned by Mrs. O. Blain at the last two meetings amounted to about $17.

Lunch was served and the next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. D. Gillies in June.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Luft were Calgary visitors on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Haug were dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. E.
 W. Lowrie on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Batus entertained at a crocodile party on Friday evening, with 4 tables in play. Honors went to Mrs. P. Luft and Mr. A. Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hogg (wypup
 Mr. and Mrs. J. B. visited with Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hogg on Sun.

Mrs. O. Krebs was an overnight guest with Mr. and Mrs. L. Krebs on Saturday.

Mrs. O. Hoesgood went to Calgary last Tuesday on account of her father's serious illness.

Tie Holidays
To Weekends

A move is underway in the United States to tie the national holidays to weekends. The Financial Post urges the same thing here.

"A holiday coming in the middle of the week," it says, "is of little use to anyone and it plays hob with business and industry. We just get nicely started on a week's work when we have to stop again,
 and starts and stops are expensive.
 Moreover, there is little chance of a real break in routine for the individual."

"A holiday on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday simply means a day when we stay home from the office of plant. A holiday on Friday or Monday means a full three day's stretch, ample time for complete change."

Headaches Ahead

Trouble is almost certainly ahead of the Ontario Government in the new farm marketing legislation now proposed, thinks The Financial Post. A bill introduced in the provincial legislature would give the most sweeping power to producer-groups prices would be fixed, sales controlled or even prohibited.

There are always individuals who resent being told just when where and through whom they will market their products and what the price will be. These are the consumers who are seldom consulted when the price is fixed but who resent any group dictating what they will pay.

With so much grief in compulsory marketing ventures in other provinces and in the United States, one might have supposed that an astute administrator like Premier Frost would have steered well clear of this trouble breeder.

High Priced
Coyotes

Bounty costs on coyotes in Manitoba are soaring and government authorities are becoming suspicious, reports The Financial Post.
 In Oakland municipality in the well-settled south-west corner and near the Saskatchewan boundary, bounty was paid in 1953 on 15
 adult coyotes and 34 coyote pups, total $245. Last year in the same municipality, bounties were claimed on 37 adult coyotes and 1,801 pups, total $9,140.

Maybe coyotes from neighboring Saskatchewan or North Dakota are migrating to Oakland municipality in Manitoba. Maybe persons are killing them outside the province and claiming the Manitoba bounty. The Manitoba Department of Agriculture hasn't been able to find an explanation even after fairly thorough inquiry.

Bounty on coyotes was started in Manitoba in 1943. It was expected that, except in remote areas, the coyote population would dwindle. Records show the reverse.

Some 110,374 TV sets were sold in Canada in the first quarter of 1954, some 45 per cent ahead of the 1953 figure.

In the first quarter of 1954, 451
 Canadians met death and another 10,508 were injured on the nation's highways.

Bad Law

Any law which is held in contempt by most of the people is a bad law. It is not the purpose of laws to enforce morality or somebody's conception of morality. Some people think smoking is a sin, but a law against smoking would be ridiculous. Some think it is wrong to drink, but prohibition has always been a sordid failure. Some think that lotteries are evil and the lawmakers have tried to prohibit them. But the public is equally contemptuous of that law and it ought to be repealed.

The prohibition against sweepstakes does not prevent Canadians participating in sweepstakes. But it does two things. It drives a good deal of money out of the country which ought to stay here, and by making a mockery of one law it incites disrespect for all laws.

Canadians purchased something over a million dollars worth of tickets in the Irish hospitals' sweepstakes for the recent running of the Grand National race. Over the course of a year they probably spend five million in various sweepstakes and major lotteries.

Out of every ten dollars' worth of Irish hospitals' sweepstakes tickets sold in Canada, about $5 comes back to Canada in prize, $2.50 goes for running expenses, 55 cents in Irish government taxes, and the balance, $1.95, to Irish hospitals. Since the sweeps started 25 years ago, $110,000,000 has gone to building hospitals in Ireland, perhaps $10,000,000 contributed by Canadians.

And every ticket bought in Canada in all this time has been illegal. Every cent Canadians have given to the Irish hospitals has been illegal. Every prize has been illegal.

In spite of the illegality of it, Canadians by the hundred of thousands or perhaps millions want to and do "gamble" in these sweepstakes. They know that every dollar spent only 50 cents comes back in prizes, yet the faint hope of winning a fortune, the dream that goes with every ticket are considered ample reward for their money spent. Such expenditure is harmless. And is enjoyment and satisfaction it is not money very well spent for all these people. Others, of course, don't see it that way, and buy their entertainment in other ways. That's their business. And most of them are content that the sweepstakes fans too, should have their own fun in their own way.

Sweepstakes can't be banned from Canada. That has been proved. So many Canadians who are only rather than make criminals out of so many innocent fun, the law should be repealed.

Then there's the secondary point that if in their sweepstakes buying, Canadians are willing that a big slice of the prize should be set aside for some charity, why shouldn't it be a Canadian charity? Canadian hospitals, without this subsidy, are far better off than Irish hospitals would be, but they could well do with another million or so dollars a year from this source. We have no objection to Canadians helping to finance Irish hospitals but we think they would prefer to have their money stay in Canada.

So not only should sweepstakes be legalized, but a Canadian sweep should be permitted.

Christian Science

God's infinitely wise and loving government of man will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Everlasting Punishment." From the King James Version of the Bible will be read the account of Christ Jesus' healing of the impotent man at the pool of Bethesda, including the following passage: "Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee" (John 5:14).

The following correlative passage will be among those read from "Science and Health" by Mary Baker Eddy (412:14): "The great fact that God lovingly governs all, never punishing aught but sin, is your standpoint. Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee" (John 5:14). "Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth: therefore despise not thou the chastening of the Almighty."

Service Board Notes

SEED GRASSES EARLY: If a good seed crop is expected in the year following seeding, perennial grasses should be sown early. In 1953 C. R. Elliott, Agronomist in charge of forage crops at Beaverlodge, sowed creeping red fescue and brome in rows. The grasses were sown at seven different dates in June and July and their yields in the following year compared. Yields from those sown in July were substantially less than those sown in June. June 4, 10, 18, and 24 and July 8, 18, and 23 were the seeding dates. For fescue the average yield from the four June seedings was 577 lbs per acre compared with an average of 165 lbs per acre from seed sown in July. Similarly, brome showed 436 lbs for the June sown average and 228 for July. From the June 24 to the July 8 seedings, yield dropped surprisingly. Fescue in the following year yielded 644 lbs. per acre from the first sowing and 143 lbs. from the second. Corresponding figures for brome were 481 lbs. and 189 lbs. June sowings of creeping red fescue and brome would seem to be the preferred practice.

A Chance For Fame

If some public spirited citizen wants to leave a real monument behind him, he has a wonderful opportunity in his own town, says The Financial Post. Let him lead a drive to clean up and beautify.

There is plenty of scope. Most of the downtown areas of our cities and many towns are badly congested just because the builders did not look ahead. There are few parks and often these are neglected. And to the casual motorist at least, the great majority of them look exactly alike. Towns and cities that are really different and attractive in Canada stand out like a peacock in a barnyard filled with drab Plymouth flocks.

Next Big Northern Move

A definite move toward a start of actual construction on the great metallurgical project proposed for Northern British Columbia is indicated by a substantial financing deal just announced, says The Financial Post.

While there has been no thumping with regard to the B.C. project, steady progress has been made from an engineering standpoint and the undertaking never looked better from an economic standpoint. Three of the top minerals on which the project is based are nickel, cobalt and pig iron. And all these minerals are today selling at higher prices than when negotiations first got under way.

Painless "Shot"

British designed hypodermic needle has a new point that is said to make it easier and less painful to insert, reports The Financial Post. Secret is in the shape of the point—broad and angled. The edges are sharpened so that when the needle is inserted it makes an incision wide enough to ensure easy painless penetration, but not wide enough to cause unnecessary shock. It is, to some extent, self-sharpening, and may be used upward of 400 times without blunting.

THREE IN ONE

Best vacation story of the West had to do with the Saskatchewan woman who was of necessity, chafing with members of the elite at a Lake Louise resort. They were going on about their butlers, their chauffeurs and their second maids until she stopped them cold with the announcement that her husband had given a three-weeks all-expense vacation in the mountains to their cook, their cleaning woman and their gardener. Nor did she find it necessary to further explain that she was all three.

DISTRICT NEWS

M.V.B.C. NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Yes, the Campus feels deserted, but Mr. and Mrs. Cook, Miss Walsh, Mrs. Suder, the Maintenance Superintendent, Arthur Eby and myself are still here. Office work, cleaning, preparation by some for summer activities are all essential parts of each day. Then, of course, we think of the Choir as it is touring Washington, Idaho, B.C. and parts of Alberta, and will return to the campus by next Monday morning. They will be in Calgary next Sunday at the Parkdale United Missionary Church in the afternoon and First Baptist Church in the evening. It will be good to see them again but it will only be for a brief time, and they too will be scattered for the summer months once more. We expect that about five of the Bible Diploma graduates will return to take the fourth year of work and receive their Bachelor of Sacred Literature Degree. This will give us a good class, and with the number of fine young people who already have intimated their definite intention of coming we should have a much larger enrollment next year.

A number of the students of this year have enrolled in the Living Endowment League. This merely means that from their tithe of their summer's wages, they will send in ten dollars, and receive their certificate of membership. We appreciate all those who have enrolled as members and would like so much to increase the regular subscription list.

This merely means that from their tithe of their summer's wages, they will send in ten dollars, and receive their certificate of membership. We appreciate all those who have enrolled as members and would like so much to increase the regular subscription list.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will reach Kitchener by Thursday, we believe. President Taylor will speak at the graduation exercises of Emmanuel Bible College of the United Missionary Church on Friday evening. He then will conduct special revival services in the Evangel Church of Kitchener from May 1 to 15. Then it goes to Fort Hope for another week meeting. Mr. Taylor will also meet with educators in the field of religion as they meet in the States soon. To get our College on an accreditation basis is the objective of our President. Although our credit are accepted by some Colleges we want them to be of value to the larger Colleges as well. Some effort will be made toward this while he is on this tour.

Mr. and Mrs. Lusk will remain in Didsbury during the greater part of the summer. They will be engaged in various efforts in several of our churches during the months of May and June. Mr. Lusk will assist in Campus work while Arthur Eby is away on vacation. There is much work to be done, and should any one feel like donating some help you could contact Arthur.

Mr. Sam Eby and Miss Gladys Eby, of the College, received the sad news of their eldest brother's passing last week. Many will remember this older brother who resided in this community for a number of years. More information is given elsewhere. Mr. Eby attended the funeral and has returned again.

Arthur Eby's are taking care of little Miss Christine Lusk while the parents are on tour.

Mr. Wayne Kagey who graduated from the College with his B.S.L. this year will enroll in Cascade College, Portland to secure his Bachelor of Arts. From there he has applied to Asbury College, Wilmore, Kentucky for entrance to their Seminary where he will pursue a further course in religion to secure his Bachelor of Divinity degree. He will enter the ministry in the Free Methodist Church.

Mr. Alfred Dietz who also obtained his Bachelor of Sacred Literature Degree this year, and who was the winner of the Eby Sermon Award will make application to the Conference of the United Missionary Church this summer for pastoral duties.

It may be a bit difficult to keep an interesting column before you during the summer months but we shall try to keep you informed as to the progress, work of Faculty members, and student items of interest during the summer months, be those many or few.
